

Enabling a profitable, stable & secure production for you.

Over the years, the performance of your die-casting equipment may degrade. This is a gradual process that can be triggered by downtime, scrap, higher cycle time, unplanned repairs, or lack of employee training.

At the same time, OEE is the decisive variable for your productivity and profitability. This is where our TotalCare Service Agreements come in - they are specifically designed with the points mentioned above in mind.

We support you with a regular inspection of your equipment and related recommendations for maintenance. Our Die Casting Academy is at your disposal to improve the training of your employees. With the Bühler Insights Die Casting Dashboard, you can keep an eye on the performance of your plants and take direct action to counteract declining performance.

Of course every service agreement is individually tailored to the needs of your production.
